

Benefit from Asckey's 20+ years CAFM experience - Asckey now bring you fmfirst® survey, part of the fmfirst® product suite.

fmfirst® survey has been developed to provide an efficient and cost-effective tool for delivering surveys and collecting and analysing results through a centralised system. Survey reports effectively demonstrate the presence of appropriate monitoring and validation records.

fmfirst® survey provides:

- Quick and easy survey template creation, completion and validation
- In-house design options
- Show/hide relational functionality
- Fast navigation to current and historical results

fmfirst® survey allows organisations to take control by creating ad hoc or scheduled surveys for essential facilities management functions including surveys for: waste audits, fire safety, building condition, stock condition, assets, risk/compliance, health and safety and ad hoc patient surveys, etc.

- Create bespoke survey templates to your own exact requirements
- Link survey to a location/asset/health and safety item
- Web enabled and mobile compatible for survey completion and upload at location
- Action report lists detail failures/tasks to be completed
- Links to estates systems allows ticket creation for rapid remedial action

Quality

The development of fmfirst® survey conforms to the latest ISO9001:2008 standards. If your FM first estates installation is hosted with Asckey, the security of your data conforms to ISO27001:2013. These standards ensure that all current and future versions meet stringent quality control procedures, giving you peace of mind over system reliability and functionality.

Waste Management survey

In the Healthcare Sector, waste audits are a legal requirement for demonstrating compliance with regulatory standards. Regular audits form part of a 'duty of care' to monitor the effectiveness of processes such as waste segregation and waste minimisation initiatives under the Environmental Protection Act and Hazardous Waste Regulations.

fmfirst waste management survey helps NHS trusts to manage their waste management audits, recording all actions and provide an essential audit trail.

Waste management surveys help to identify areas of non-compliance, areas for improvement, training needs and also promote active staff ownership, involvement and awareness.
